Methodology

Patrick E. Gonzales graduated from the University of Baltimore in 1981 with a degree in political science. He began his career as an analyst with Mason-Dixon Opinion Research and is the former president of Mason-Dixon Campaign Polling.

Mr. Gonzales has polled and analyzed hundreds of elections in Maryland since the mid 1980's. Additionally, he and his associates have conducted numerous market research projects and crafted message development programs for businesses and organizations throughout the state.

Laslo V. Boyd is a partner of Gonzales Research & Marketing Strategies. Dr. Boyd received his Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania and has over 30 years of experience in higher education, government, and public policy.

Hilary Duff Gonzales is Director of Sales and Marketing for Gonzales Research & Marketing Strategies. Mrs. Gonzales has over 20 years experience promoting the state of Maryland, particularly in the tour and travel industry.

This survey was conducted by Gonzales Research & Marketing Strategies from September 17th through September 23rd, 2012. A total of 813 registered voters in Maryland who say they are going to vote in the November general election were interviewed by telephone. A cross-section of interviews was conducted in each jurisdiction within the state to reflect general election voting patterns.

The margin of error (MOE), according to customary statistical standards, is no more than plus or minus 3.5 percentage points. There is a 95 percent probability that the "true" figures would fall within this range if the entire survey universe were sampled. The margin for error is higher for any demographic subgroup, such as gender or race.

Summary

Most Important Issue facing State

Heading into the election, concern about the economy remains most important to Maryland voters.

Statewide, 46% of voters today say that the economy is the most important issue facing the state, 12% say taxes are most important, 10% cite education, and 10% say health care is the most important issue facing the state.

For three years unease over the economy and jobs has dominated Maryland opinion, never polling under forty percent during this period.

Presidential Election

Maryland voters were asked their attitudes toward the four major national candidates.

	Favorable Opinion	Unfavorable Opinion	Neutral Opinion
Barack Obama	54%	32%	12%
Joe Biden	47%	34%	19%
Mitt Romney	35%	50%	15%
Paul Ryan	36%	38%	19%

Maryland has been one of the most reliably “blue” states over the past 20 years in presidential elections and appears so again.

Statewide, 55% say they’ll vote for the Democratic ticket of Barack Obama and Joe Biden, 36% say they’ll vote for the Republican ticket of Mitt Romney and Paul Ryan, 1% say they’ll vote for someone else, and 8% are undecided.

The results by party and gender:

	Obama/Biden	Romney/Ryan	Undecided
Democrats	81%	11%	9%
Republicans	5%	86%	8%
Independents	59%	28%	9%
Men	47%	44%	8%
Women	62%	29%	9%

President Obama enjoys a better than 2-to-1 advantage over Romney among unaffiliated voters in Maryland

U. S. Senate Election

To paraphrase entertainer and civil rights leader Paul Robeson, “If a politician can inspire himself to spend a million dollars on television ads, name recognition will follow.” Democratic Senator Ben Cardin is in a comfortable position leading into his re-election bid, but second place appears up for grabs.

In the race for United States Senate, 50% say they’ll vote Cardin, 22% say they will vote for Republican Dan Bongino, and 21% say they will for Rob Sobhani, who is running as an independent and who has invested a sizeable amount of money on TV advertisements over the past month.

To put Sobhani’s showing into perspective, when Cardin first ran for Senate in 2006, the third-party candidate received one percent of the vote.

The results by race and gender:

	Cardin	Bongino	Sobhani
White	43%	26%	23%
African-American	71%	8%	15%
Men	41%	29%	24%
Women	58%	15%	19%

Ballot Initiatives

Question 4 – Dream Act

Statewide, 58% of Maryland voters say they will vote For Question 4 in the November election, while 34% say they will vote Against Question 4, with 8% undecided.

The results by party, gender and race:

	FOR	AGAINST
Democrats	75%	18%
Republicans	29%	62%
Independents	51%	40%
Men	48%	43%
Women	67%	27%
White	54%	39%
African-American	70%	21%

Support for Question 4 is very high among Democrats and African-Americans, which is a winning combination in Maryland

Sixty-seven percent of women support Question 4, compared to 48% of men.

Question 6 – Same-Sex Marriage

Statewide, 51% of voters say they will vote For Question 6, while 43% say they will vote Against Question 6, with 6% undecided.

The results by party, gender and race:

	FOR	AGAINST
Democrats	66%	29%
Republicans	17%	75%
Independents	66%	28%
Men	44%	48%
Women	57%	38%
White	53%	40%
African-American	44%	52%

Although a majority of black voters say they'll vote against Question 6, support is up from our January survey when only 33% favored same-sex marriage, suggesting public pronouncements in the interim from the President and others have had an ameliorative impact for proponents

Question 7 – Expanded Gaming

Statewide, 45% of Maryland voters say they will vote For Question 7, while 46% say they will vote Against Question 7, with 9% undecided.

The results by party, gender and race:

	FOR	AGAINST
Democrats	51%	39%
Republicans	35%	58%
Independents	40%	50%
Men	44%	47%
Women	45%	45%
White	49%	40%
African-American	31%	64%

Registered Democrats and African-American voters diverge on this issue, which could present an obstacle on Election Day for supporters of expanded gaming in Maryland

Additional millions of dollars will be spent by both sides over the next 6 weeks trying to get their position over the finish line first in what is a close contest.

Intensity

We asked voters which of these three ballot questions was most likely to get them out to vote: 34% said same-sex marriage, 26% said expanded gaming and 25% said in-state tuition.

Among those who say in-state tuition is most likely to get them out to vote, 64% say they'll vote FOR Question 4; and among those who say same-sex marriage is most likely to get them out to vote, 56% say they'll vote FOR Question 6, indicating intensity is on the side of supporters on these two issues.

Among those who say expanded gaming is most likely to get them out to vote, 54% say they'll vote AGAINST Question 7, representing intensity on the side of opponents.
