Trump Continues to Lead Big in Michigan (Trump 41% - Rubio 19% - Cruz 16% - Kasich 11%)

EAST LANSING, Michigan --- As the number of undecided voters (5%) continues to drop, Donald Trump continues to lead with the same percentage of the vote (41%) he has had for the past two weeks. However, Florida U.S. Senator Marco Rubio (19%) almost doubled his share of the vote and Texas U.S. Senator Ted Cruz (16%) also moved up this week while Ohio Governor John Kasich (11%) and Dr. Ben Carson (7%) stayed where they were a week ago in the latest Mitchell/FOX 2 Detroit Michigan Poll conducted Tuesday night before results of the Nevada Caucuses were known.

The IVR (Interactive Voice Response) automated survey of 459 likely March 8, 2016 Michigan Republican Presidential Primary voters was conducted by Mitchell Research & Communications on February 23, 2016 and has a Margin of Error of + or – 4.57% at the 95% level of confidence.

“Trump’s percentage remains solid at 41%, while Rubio has moved back into second place in Michigan at 19%, still trailing by 22%. Cruz is close behind Rubio with 16% while Kasich still has not increased his share of the vote. Trump remains the real beneficiary of this three-way fight for second in Michigan. The longer the field is muddled up with three viable alternatives to Trump, the stronger Trump looks. These data are almost identical to the positions of the top three candidates two weeks ago,” Steve Mitchell, CEO of Mitchell Research & Communications said.

“Most importantly, looking at the second choices of the various candidates, if everyone dropped out except Rubio and Trump, creating a two-way race, Trump would still win Michigan. The same is true if it was a two-way race between Cruz and Trump,” Mitchell said.

Before a more thorough breakout by demographics, there was some key information in the poll:

- Trump continues to be much stronger with men (47%) than women (35%), almost identical to last week.

- Seventy-one percent of Trump voters strongly agree that they “are mad as hell and they won’t take it anymore.” Supporters of none of the other candidates reach more than 50% strong agreement on that statement except for Cruz supporters (51%). Clearly, the angry voters support these two candidates.
- Voters are solidifying behind their candidates. Trump (83%) and Cruz (73%) are also the two candidates whose supporters say they will definitely vote for them. Almost three-fourths of Carson’s voters (73%) and 61% of Rubio’s voters are “definitely” voting for them.
- We asked voters if they would identify themselves as Evangelical Christians to see who is winning with that demographic group in Michigan. Trump (37%) leads both Cruz (22%) and Rubio (19%) with that group.
- We also wanted to see if the disagreement Trump had with Pope Francis would impact Trump’s support with Roman Catholics and found that it clearly did not. Trump (45%) leads Rubio (23%) and Cruz (15%) with Catholics. Trump (49%) is strongest with non-church goers and weakest with Protestants (35% of the vote).

The following data show the race between Trump, Rubio, Cruz and Kasich:

By age:

- Trump (25%) and Cruz (25%) are tied for first with voters 18 to 39 years old, followed by Carson (22%), Rubio (14%), and Kasich (8%).
- Trump leads 41%-22%-12%-10% over Rubio, Cruz, and Kasich with voters 40 to 49 years old.
- Trump leads 38%-22%-19%-10% over Cruz, Rubio, and Kasich, with voters 50 to 59 years old.
- Trump leads 46%-19%-13%-11% over Rubio, Cruz, and Kasich with voters who are 60 to 69 years old.
- Trump leads among those 70 and older 44%-18%-15%-10% followed by Rubio, Kasich, and Cruz.

By gender:

- Trump leads with men 47%-16%-15%-11% over Cruz, Rubio, and Kasich.
- Trump (35%) leads Rubio (23%), Cruz (16%), and Kasich (12%) with women.

By area:

- In Wayne County outside Detroit, Trump (48%) leads Cruz (17%), Rubio (13%), Kasich (10%), and Carson (7%).
- In Oakland, Trump leads 35%-27%-23%-9%-2% over Cruz, Rubio, Kasich, and Carson.
- In Macomb, Trump (50%) leads followed by Kasich (16%), with Rubio (11%) and Cruz (11%) tied for third, followed by Carson (3%).
- In Saginaw, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Midland, the Thumb, Trump leads 46%-20%-17%-11% over Kasich, Rubio, and Cruz.
- In Washtenaw, Monroe, Mid-Michigan, Trump leads with 43%, with Kasich and Rubio tied for second with 14%, followed by Carson (11%) and Cruz (10%).
- In West Michigan, Trump (29%) and Rubio (29%) are tied for the lead, followed by Cruz (18%), Carson (10%), and Kasich (8%).
- In Northern MI/Upper Peninsula, Trump leads 48%-16%-13%-9% over Rubio, Cruz, and Carson.

“Trump continues to dominate in Michigan. The idea that a two-way race would lead to Trump losing in Michigan is wrong. Looking at second choices, even if it came down to a two-way race, Trump would still win Michigan,” Mitchell concluded.

Methodology:

Mitchell Research & Communications used a sample of likely voters in the November 2016 Michigan General Elections. Our goal is to spread as wide a net as possible to assure we survey voters who may not have voted in primary elections before. A quadruple filter was used to determine that we were surveying only likely Republican Party Primary voters.

- First voters had to say they were registered voters. If they were not, the phone call ended.
- Then, they were asked if they were definitely voting, probably voting, not sure yet, or definitely not voting in the November General Election. If they were “definitely not voting” the phone call ended.
- Then they were asked if they were definitely voting, probably voting, not sure yet, definitely not voting, or if they had already voted by absentee ballot in the March 8th Presidential Primary. If they were “definitely not voting” the call ended.
- Finally, they were informed that they could only vote in on party’s primary, not in both. They were asked if they were voting in the Democratic Party Primary, the Republican Party Primary, or if they were not sure. If respondents said “Democratic” or “not sure” the call ended, so we were only polling those who said they were voting in the Republican Party Primary Election.

We asked Mark Grebner of Practical Political Consulting, the top list vendor in Michigan, and the person that supplied us with our sample, to give us his estimate on voter turnout by age, gender, and race.

We compared final results to determine if the data needed to be weighed to reflect the demographics of the likely voters. In this poll, results were close enough to the estimates so we did not put any weights on the data.

Federal law only permits us to call land lines. Because likely Primary voters are older, almost six-in-ten (59%) are 60 or older and eight-in-ten (81%) are older than 50, there are sufficient land line voters to get an accurate sample. We do not have to make any assumptions of likely voter turnout.

(In 2012, our final survey in the Michigan Republican Party Presidential Primary had Romney winning by 1.4%, he won by 3.2%. We were off by only 1.8% from the winning margin.)

(The survey must be referred to as a Mitchell/FOX 2 Detroit Poll)

(In reading GOP cross tabs the third number down is the correct percentage of vote for each candidate. For example, looking at the far right column, Carson is getting 6.5% of the vote (we round to 7%) among Republican Party voters. He is getting 6.6% of “definite voters”, 0% of probably voters etc. Among all voters, 95.9% are definitely voting, 1.7% probably voting etc.)
